

From Our Founder

"What will my home addition cost?" As founder of Caine and Company, I hear this question from nearly every homeowner considering an expansion.

Adding living space involves unique variables that make budgeting challenging. That's why we've developed this pricing guide for 600 square foot additions, including design, labor, materials, and fixtures. The chart below outlines Basic, Mid, and Upper level finish options to help visualize different investment tiers.

At Caine and Company, we eliminate uncertainty through exceptional communication, meticulous project management, and transparent craftsmanship. While these figures provide general guidance rather than final quotes, our commitment to a stress-free expansion experience remains unwavering.

I invite you to schedule a consultation to discuss your specific vision. Expanding your home should be exciting, not overwhelming.
